

'Would you like to reduce your printing and mailing costs?'

BlueSky: The print outsourcing service for users of CDL insurance software.

WML now partner with SVTWO, a major digital print and fulfilment house, to offer a service to the insurance industry to outsource the printing and mailing of CDL insurance new business, renewal, Sales and Customer Service documents.

When you subscribe to the BlueSky out sourcing service WML and SVTWO will provide a seamless and stress free transition from in house document printing and mailing to a paper free office environment. Current users have seen major cost savings, including reduced capital expenditure on hardware, printer consumables, support, staffing and equipment down time.

Leave it to us!

Signing up for BlueSky couldn't be simpler, we will need to analyse your company's workflow volumes and CDL document types. Using this information we can generate an individual quotation based on monthly page volume. We will also provide you with document samples so you can verify the quality of output.

How does the service work?

Bluesky utilizes WML's unique rules based DataGateway technology; DataGateway is a highly reliable synchronised server pair. One server situated at the customers site interfaces across a dedicated secure ASDL line to the hardware installed at the SV.TWO site in South London. DataGateway monitors the customers workflow, and depending on customer defined rules can manipulate print data streams including, data conversion (PreScribe emulation, PDF), data encryption, compression, batch collation, archiving and stitching to name a few examples. Simple daily and monthly reporting gives full details of documents printed including page counts for easy calculation of cost per page.

Sending print data to the WML DataGateway is as simple as printing to a print queue or copying the data to a shared network folder, DataGateway will automatically pick up the print batches.

Bluesky has redundancy and resilience built into every step of the process, including disk mirroring and RAID, Auto failover and load balanced production printers and disaster recovery planning for hardware and fulfilment staff.

SVTWO will print and mail all documents on the same day that they receive them using the fleet of hi-end Xerox production black and white as well as colour printing machines which can stitch your documents in-line to maintain document integrity.

Data protection and Document Security.

We take data and document security very seriously. DataGateway utilises SSL data encryption and compression are used for all data transfers and archiving. All data archives are held at the customer's site, with daily print reports and audit trails provided.

All hard copy documents at the SVTWO site are handled within a secure environment which includes secure staff door entry systems and all areas are covered by colour CCTV.

ISO Standards

SVTWO are accredited with ISO9001 (quality printing standards) as well as ISO14001 and FSC for environmental standards. Our experienced, dedicated account managers who collectively have more than 100 years experience in the insurance markets are here to make sure that your daily new business, renewals, adjustments documentation is produced to high standards and in the post the same day.
